"OUR GREAT HIGH PRIEST" HEBREWS 4:14-16

This Week's Core Competency

Prayer – I pray to God to know him, to lay my requests before him and to find direction for my daily life. Ps 66:16-20

*Come and listen, all you who fear God;
let me tell you what he has done for me.
17 I cried out to him with my mouth;
his praise was on my tongue.
18 If I had cherished sin in my heart,
the Lord would not have listened;
19 but God has surely listened and heard my voice in prayer.
20 Praise be to God,
who has not rejected my prayer
or withheld his love from me!*

Jesus our savior is also Jesus our high priest. Too bad most of us Gentile Christians, unlike the Hebrew Christians to whom the book of Hebrews was written, know precious little about the Aaronic priesthood. As a result we have trouble appreciating that Jesus is our "merciful and faithful high priest" or that he was made like us in every way for this very purpose (Heb 2:17). Hard to believe that such an obscure truth has such practical implications. Readers of the book of Hebrews, who were tempted to abandon their Christian confession and return to

I cannot and will not recant anything, for to go against conscience is neither right nor safe. Here I stand, I can do no other, so help me God.
Amen.

- Martin Luther

the practice of Judaism, needed to know that they had not "just" a high priest but a "great" high priest to whom they could turn for mercy and grace.

One writer explores two very practical implications to be drawn from the fact that Jesus is a superior high priest to Aaron. He writes, "First, there is no need in giving up our profession just because we are going through testing and trial (Heb 4:14). The word translated 'profession' means 'confession.' These Hebrew Christians were tempted to give up their confession of faith in Christ and their confidence in Him (see Heb. 3:6, 14). It was not a matter of giving up their salvation, since salvation through Christ is eternal (Heb. 5:9). It was a matter of their public confession of faith. By returning to the Old Testament system, they would be telling everyone that they had no faith in Christ (see Gal. 2:11-21). This kind of unbelief would only bring reproach to Christ's name . . . The second conclusion is this: there is no need to go back because we can come boldly into the presence of God and get the help we need (Heb. 4:16). No trial is too great, no temptation is too strong, but that Jesus Christ can give us the mercy and grace that we need, when we need it. 'But He is so far away!' we may argue. 'And He is the perfect Son of God! What can He know about the problems of weak sinners like us?' But that is a part of His greatness! When He was ministering on earth in a human body, he experienced all that we experience, and even more. After all, a sinless person would feel temptations and trials in a much greater way than you and I could ever feel them. Christ was tempted, yet He did not sin; and He is able to help us when we are tempted. If we fail to hold fast our confession, we are not proving that Jesus Christ has failed. We are only telling the world that we failed to draw on His grace and mercy when it was freely available to us" (Warren W. Wiersbe, "Hebrews," in The Bible Exposition Commentary, 2 vols., 2:290, 91).

Instead of giving up when the cares of this world and the costs of "holding firmly" to our profession become more than we can bear, we can approach the "throne of grace" in prayer knowing for sure that our sympathetic high priest understands what we are going through and stands ready to help. He is there in our time of greatest need to provide mercy in the face of our failure and grace in the face of our weakness.

For Discussion

Jeff comes from a good family but not a religious family. The same goes for his extended family. In fact, it would be fair to say that he comes from a family of outspoken critics of religion. His parents are well educated professionals; he has an older sister who's a doctor. It goes without saying that he did not go to church, mosque, or synagogue growing up. What's more, he had few, if any, religious friends, and certainly no Christian friends, until he went to university. His roommate freshman year shared the gospel with him and invited him to a few campus events sponsored by Crusade. When he told his parents he had become a Christian, they couldn't believe that he had joined what they called a "fundamentalist cult." Jeff's relationship with his parents went downhill fast. First, they tried to talk him into going to a commuter college nearby, and when that didn't work, they told him not to expect any financial help from them. Jeff wants things to be like they used to be and thinks he might back away from his Christian commitment—at least in front of his parents. What do you think?

day 1 ENCOUNTER – read God's word to put yourself in touch with him.

Hebrews 4:14-16

Cf., another translation

14 Therefore, since we have a great high priest who has gone through the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold firmly to the faith we profess. 15 For we do not have a high priest who is unable to sympathize with our weaknesses, but we have one who has been tempted in every way, just as we are—yet was without sin. 16 Let us then approach the throne of grace with confidence, so that we may receive mercy and find grace to help us in our time of need. (NIV(c)1984)

14 Let us, then, hold firmly to the faith we profess. For we have a great High Priest who has gone into the very presence of God—Jesus, the Son of God. 15 Our High Priest is not one who cannot feel sympathy for our weaknesses. On the contrary, we have a High Priest who was tempted in every way that we are, but did not sin. 16 Let us have confidence, then, and approach God's throne, where there is grace. There we will receive mercy and find grace to help us just when we need it. (GNT)

day 2

EXPLORE – the answer to these questions to better understand what the passage means.

Consult the explanation of the message and the notes to follow if you need help.

1. Given the fact that we have a "great high priest," what should we do?
2. What is it about our high priest that makes him great?
3. Rather than let our faith slip, we are to "hold firmly to the faith we profess." What does that mean?
4. Explain the contrast in verse 15.
5. Verse 15 mentions "our weaknesses." What weaknesses?
6. Put the point of the comparison in verse 15 in your own words.
7. Although he was tempted, Jesus was "without sin." What does that mean?
8. To what does approaching the "throne of grace" refer? How do we do that?
9. Mercy and grace are available to us. What's the difference between them?
10. Discussion: Talk about the kind of help you think our high priest is prepared to give to those who come to him.

day 3

EXAMINE – an explanation of the message to better understand the meaning of the passage.

The first Christians were Jews who responded to the preaching of the apostles following the resurrection of Christ. According to the book of Acts, about 3000 believed on the Day of Pentecost (2:41); not long after, the number of men grew to about 5000 (4:4). It was only later that Gentiles were added to the church (10:23-48). The book of Hebrews was written to Jewish Christians living in Jerusalem and its environs before the destruction of the city in A. D. 70. As a result of their newfound faith in Christ, these Jews were being persecuted by other Jews (7:54-8:3). One author writes, "Those Jews who were baptized in the name of Jesus Christ were 'put out of the synagogue' (John 16:2). They were no longer considered Jews or members of the commonwealth of Israel. They were treated as Gentiles. They were no longer welcomed in the synagogue or in the temple. They also gave up any possibility of employment because they were considered unclean" (J. Dwight Pentecost, A Faith that Endures, 17). No wonder some of them began to count the cost of their confession and look for a way out. Another writer describes their dilemma this way, "The Hebrew Christians who received this letter were sorely tempted to return to the religion of their fathers. After all, any Jew could travel to Jerusalem and see the temple and the priests ministering at the altar. Here was something real, visible, concrete. When a person is going through persecution, as these Hebrew Christians were, it is much easier to walk by sight than by faith. Some of us have doubted the Lord under much less provocation than these people were enduring" (Warren W. Wiersbe, "Hebrews," in The Bible Exposition Commentary, 2 vols., 2:290).

The writer of the book of Hebrews gives these beleaguered believers a reason to persevere; they have a "great" high priest. With the mention of a high priest in 4:14, he picks up where he left off earlier. In chapter two he writes about Jesus, "For this reason he had to be made like his brothers in every way, in order that he might become a merciful and faithful high priest in service to God" (v.17), and in chapter three he goes on to write, "Therefore, holy brothers, who share in the heavenly calling, fix your thoughts on Jesus, the apostle and high priest whom we confess" (v. 1).

Hebrews 4:14-16 contains two exhortations: "let us hold firmly to the faith we profess" (v. 14) and "let us then approach the throne of grace" (v. 16). It also contains the author's reflections on Jesus' high priesthood, which serves as the basis for these exhortations. "It is because Jesus is our high priest that we can hold firmly to the faith and approach the throne of grace with confidence" (George H. Guthrie, The NIV Application Commentary: Hebrews, 173).

The writer tells us a number of things about our high priest, a number of things that account for his greatness. First, he "has gone through the heavens" (v. 14). On the Day of Atonement Aaron, the high priest, entered the Most Holy Place (Lev 16:1-25) to offer a sacrifice for his own sins and the sins of his people. Jesus, however, has entered the very presence of God to present his superior sacrifice for our sins (cf. 8:2; 9:11, 23-24). Since he was sinless, unlike Aaron, he needed to offer no sacrifice for his own sins. Second, he is the "Son of God" (v. 14). In chapter five, the writer tells us what God has said about him. "'You are my Son; today I have become your Father,'" and "'You are a priest forever, in the order of Melchizedek'" (v. 5). Third, he is able to "sympathize with our weaknesses" because he "has been tempted in every way, just as we are" (v. 15). He understands what we go through because he has gone through the same kinds of things. In other words, he has an unequalled capacity for sympathizing with us in all the dangers and sorrows and trials which come our way in life because he himself, by virtue of his likeness to us, faced all these experiences. What's more, fourth, he "was without sin" (v. 15) even though he bore a greater weight of temptation than anyone ever has. As one writer observes, "Satan exerts only that pressure necessary to conform us to his will. It is not necessary for him to exert the full weight of temptation on us—for in our weakness, we submit. But Satan exerted on Christ the full weight of his ability to tempt, and yet could not cause Him to submit. Hence Christ bore a greater weight of testing than any man has known" (Pentecost, 89, 90).

The writer also tells us the purpose for his second exhortation (v. 16b). "Let us then approach the throne of grace with confidence," he says, "so that we may receive mercy and find grace to help us in our time of need" (v. 16). Help in a time of spiritual need is available to us from our gracious God and high priest. We can receive mercy when we fail, and we can find the help we need strength to persevere. No trial is too great, no temptation is too strong, but that Jesus Christ can give us the mercy and grace that we need, right when we need it.

The Message of the Passage

When tempted to compromise your Christian confession, go boldly to your great high priest from whom you will receive mercy and strength to persevere.

day 4 EMBRACE – how God spoke to you in his word.

Our desire is to not be merely hearers of the word, but doers of the word as James suggests in James 1:22. Try some of the challenges below to apply what you have learned this week.

- Journal your thoughts on the passage:

–Write about what God wants you to know . . .

–Write about how God wants you to feel . . .

–Write about what God wants you to do . . .

“Our Great High Priest”

(Use the space below for Sunday’s message notes)

notes STUDY – the commentaries to answer the questions.

v. 14 therefore Gk. oun. Lit., "having, therefore, a great high priest," or "seeing, then, we have a great high priest" (NKJV). The term likely refers back to the previous discussion regarding Jesus as high priest in 2:17-3:1- perhaps more broadly in 3:1-4:13, or more narrowly 3:12-13 (see Franz Delitzsch, Commentary on the Epistle to the Hebrews, 2 vol. reprint ed., 1:217, 18). The participle "having a great high priest" is likely causal; cf., "since, then, we have a great high priest" (NRSV).

v. 14 great "His greatness is expressed in the language of transcendence. He has passed through the heavens to the presence of God (cf. 9:24)" (William L. Lane, Word Biblical Commentary, vol. 47a, Hebrews 1-8, 103). "The present passage (4:14-16) focuses in part on the ministry of Jesus in which he entered the heavenly Most Holy Place to present his superior offering (cf. 8:2; 9:11, 23-24)" (Guthrie, 175).

v. 14 through the heavens I.e., "into heaven;" cf., "has entered heaven" (NLT); "has gone into the very presence of God" (GNT). "The central idea of [dieleluthota] is 'passed through.' As the high priest passes through the holy place into the most holy place to stand before the divine presence on the Day of Atonement, Jesus has passed through the heavens to the divine presence. Unfortunately, 'passed through the heavens' does not convey this idea in English" (Lane, 94). "What is emphasized here is His transcendence; He is 'made higher than the heavens', as we are told later in the epistle (Cf. 7:26), or as it is put in Eph. 4:10, he 'ascended far above all the heavens, that he might fill all things'. It is because He has been so highly exalted that He is such a 'great' high priest; there is already the implied contrast here between him and the earthly high priests of Aaron's line, whose highest privilege was to pass once a year through the inner veil into the holy of holies in a material and temporary sanctuary, there to appear for a few moments before God on behalf of their people" (F. F. Bruce, The Epistle to the Hebrews, NICNT, 85).

v. 14 faith we profess I.e., "our confession" (ESV, NRSV, NKJV); "our profession of faith" (NJB); "the faith we profess" (GNT). The Gk. term [homologia] "has reference to a specific formulation of faith that had once been accepted and openly acknowledged by the members of the community" (Lane, 104).

v. 15 weakness "The word translated 'weakness' (astheneia) can refer to sickness, physical weakness, general weakness related to being in the flesh, or moral weakness. Here the context associates the weakness with a propensity to sin (cf. 5:2-3). Not that Jesus shared in our experience of sin—the author makes it clear he did not—but he did share in our experience of being tempted, a difficult aspect of life that too often leads to sin" (Guthrie, 173).

v. 15 just as Lit., "according to our likeness." The Gk. terms "[kath' homoioteta]" may mean 'in the same way as we are tempted' or 'by reason of his likeness to us'; both are true" (Leon Morris, "Hebrews" in The Expositor's Bible Commentary, 12:46). Cf., the first way (cf., NIV, the NET Bible, NJB, NRSV, NKJV), less frequently the second way (cf., "one who, because of his likeness to us, has been tested every way, only without sin" [NEB]).

v. 15 without sin Lit., "apart from sin." "This may mean that Jesus was tempted just as we are except that we sin and he did not. But it may also mean that he had a knowledge of every kind of temptation except that which comes from actually having sinned. There are supporters for each interpretation. But it may be that the writer was not trying to differentiate between the two" (46). "This ['apart from sin'] is appended, not to ['in all things'], but to ['according to our likeness'], to imply not merely that temptation produced no sin in our Lord, but also that it found in Him no sin" (Delitzsch, 221). "Apart from sin" does not mean that our Lord experienced every kind of human temptation except temptation to sin. "Like the Israelites in Moses' day, he too had His day of trial in the wilderness, and any compromise with the tempter's suggestions, any inclination to put God to the test, would have been as certainly sin as His refusal to countenance these suggestions or abate one iota of His confidence in His Father meant spiritual victory—victory for Himself and also for His people" (Bruce, 86).

v. 16 throne of grace Some take this as a reference to God's throne transformed from a throne of judgment to a throne of grace by the work of our High Priest. One observes, "The rabbis sometimes speak of a 'throne of mercy' to which God goes from 'the throne of judgment' when he spares people (Lev R 29. 3, 6, 9, 10). The idea here is not dissimilar" (Morris, 46). Some take it as a reference to Christ's throne. Another writes, "We may come freely to the throne of grace. His throne, which would have been a throne of judgment, has been transformed into a throne from which grace flows like a river" (Pentecost, 90). In either case, the benefit is the same.

v. 16 mercy I.e., "the outward demonstration of pity, a sympathy that expresses itself in helping a person in need instead of remaining completely passive" (The Nelson Study Bible, Wordfocus on "mercy," 2083).

v. 16 grace "Grace may be used in two senses. There is the grace that characterizes God in His dealing with sinners and with His children, because of the work of Jesus Christ. But there is also that grace that provides divine enablement to meet any need. Both these ideas of grace are used in this verse" (Pentecost, 90).

v. 16 time of need Cf., "There we will receive mercy and find grace to help us just when we need it" (GNT).

Family Time

Family time will help you take a break from your busy schedule and spend time connecting with your family.
Tips for your Family Time: Keep it simple! Be flexible! Do it often! HAVE FUN!!

A few years ago, my family took a trip to Washington D.C. We read many guidebooks and travel guides to plot out our vacation. We wanted to make sure we hit all of the most popular tourist spots. As a bonus, we had friends who worked in key government offices. We hoped to get some behind the scenes access. Our friends proved to be valuable guides. One definition of a guide is one who leads another through an unknown or unmapped country. They are representatives for places for which they are qualified. Our text today speaks of One who is a Perfect Guide. Jesus, as our High Priest, has gone before us in this unmapped country. Because He has gone before us and endured hardships and temptations, He can lead us through. To illustrate this point to your kids this week, have them give a guided tour of somewhere they are very familiar with - their bedroom, the backyard, a favorite park. Pretend that you know nothing about the place and let them explain every detail to you. Explain that in a similar way, Jesus came to earth and experienced everything we do, yet was without sin. Because of that, He can guide us through life. When times get hard or we don't know the way, we can trust our Perfect Guide.

What Does The Bible Say

Weekly Verse: Hebrews 4:14-16

1. In Hebrews 4:14, Jesus is called the great _____.
2. Did Jesus sin when He was tempted?
3. According to verse 16, how are we to approach the throne of grace?

What Do You Think

1. In the Old Testament, a high priest helped people connect with God. Jesus came to connect us to God too. How did He do that?
2. In what ways does it help you to know that Jesus was tempted but did not sin?
3. What should we do when we are in need? (see v. 16)
4. What does praying with confidence mean?

What R U Going To Do

Special note for parents: In this eight week series we are asking kids to memorize the entire passage of Philippians 2:5-11. We are breaking it down into weekly segments. This beautiful passage teaches us about the powerful name of Jesus. Thank you for helping your child work on this passage throughout our series.
